

Aisana Zharmagambetova

BSc Computer Science Graduate(2023) | Exploring Opportunities Across Software Development & IT | Current Focus: Data Analytics

About me

Inspired to create and develop interesting and challenging technological solutions. On my way to becoming a full-stack software developer I seek opportunities to learn and polish my skills in all areas of computing, from data to AI. I am always curious to try out new tools and have the patience to thoroughly study and experiment with ways to deliver technologically sound solutions. Looking forward to opportunities that would challenge me and help me grow.

Recent experience as Data Analytic I consider a stepping stone to future career opportunities as analyzing data and using business logic are fundamentals behind successful project planning.

Work Experience

MultiPass Limited : Data Analyst : London Office

since Feb 2024

Amazing opportunity to gain experience working with data, visualization tools. I learnt to work with data to analyze company's growth and areas of future focus and collaborated with various departments to build Looker environment for easier data access. The experience helped me to learn more about Data Structure and Business Logic.

Athena Hackathon by InvestNext

Autumn 2022 (2 days)

Attended the event and connected with new people. Learnt the essentials of using tools to brainstorm, pitch ideas and plan a project together with a team of new acquaintances. Our idea - InvestNext was planned to solve the growing issue of Financial Illiteracy and lack of teaching resources on the topic.
